also, eating contaminated raw or partly cooked meat (especially pork, lamb or venison) puts people at increased risk for toxoplasmosis, as can drinking water contaminated with t