this happens because as the tissue expands in length and the blood cells multiply, they don’t just expand in one direction, but across as well that substance is believed to be dhea, a testosterone precursor outlawed by the wada code and considered a controlled substance in many countries captain blankenship golden waves sea salt shimmer spray captain blankenship mermaid hair care set