These are exciting times as the company works closely with the FDA to create the first "modified risk" cigarette mandated by Congress in 2009.