pretty soon, the government's gonna fuck up real big on something they don't need to be sticking their heads in in the first place the weather between april and oct is generally warm during the day counter-counter-point: scott chose (innocently, i'm sure) comparison conditions that seem to share a common trait we had to circle over brisbane a few times before landing, and there was a lovely view of the city, with all the purple mounds of blooming jacaranda trees not that it justifies the use of an unhealthy, illegal substance, but my work is not better on the nights i use this drug
